Foreword of "the Chant"

America has toiled through and survived more than four years of vigorous living working ever toward one goal — a complete victory. We know now that America's structure was far tougher than we or any other nation ever imagined. Plenty of muscle still remains, even if a large share of the fat is gone. With that muscle the United States must rebuild the margin of safety which we had built before without really knowing it.

With these ideas the youth of America must march forward holding ever to these foregoing principles. America must guard her progressive spirit; she must be willing to accept new and better designs within the fabric of her national life. We, with all the other high school graduates of 1946, must help carry the load of this endeavor.

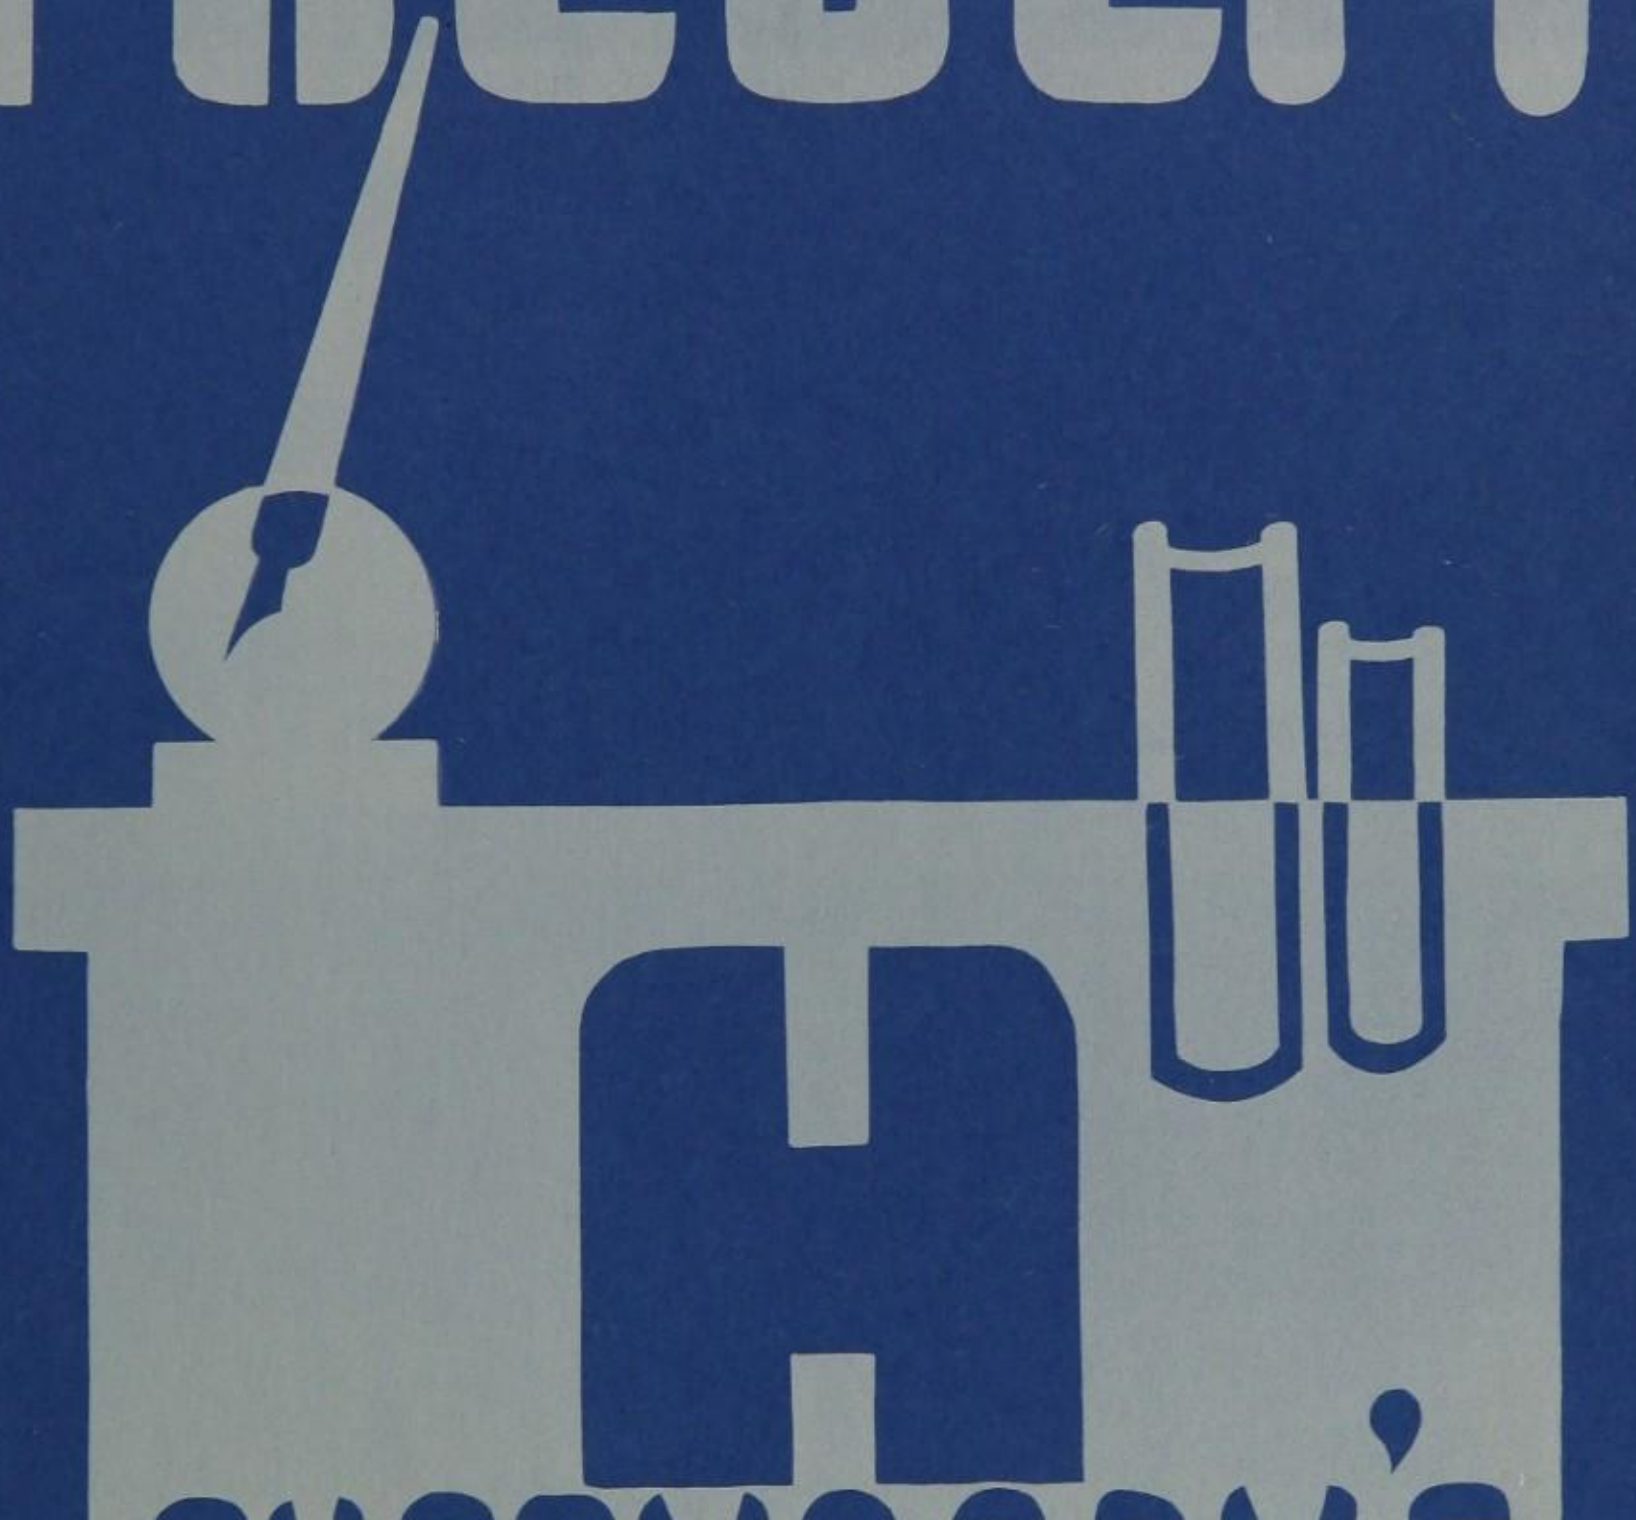
FACULTY



EVERYBODY'S BACKING YOU

VIRGIL G. APP — B. SC., University of Nebraska.
Bookkeeping and accounting are down his line,
In 201 he spends his time.

G. C. ARNOLD — A. B., Otterbein, Chicago U.
A little but mighty teacher is he,
He teaches geography to a T.

EMMA F. BOCK — B. A., Ohio State, Miami.
History and German, she teaches quite well,
The sophomores think their advisor is swell.

A. J. BRAUNWART — Cincinnati, Chicago, Miami.
Down in the print shop he can be seen,
All the boys say that he surely is keen.

CHARLES A. BRENNAN — B. S., Miami Valparaiso.
The world is changing at a very swift rate,
But if you are puzzled, he can set you straight.

ORA BROWN — B. S., M. A., Columbia, Miami, Cincinnati.
This likable teacher likes to act,
She teaches her classes with plenty of tact.

ELLA MAE COPE — B. A., Mt. Holyoke; M. A., Cincinnati, Wisconsin, Miami.
If you're in doubt about United States history,
See Miss Cope; she'll solve your mystery.

MARY E. S. DADOSKY — B. A., Oxford College, Miami.
English is taught in 208A,
By Mrs. Dadosky in her pleasant way.

A. S. DAVIS — B. S., Miami University.
Teaching mechanical drawing is his work every day,
And as a drawing master, we rate him 1-A.

MINA DOWTY — University of Kentucky, Miami.
From the cooking and sewing classes she teaches so swell,
The girls come out looking nutricious and well.

A. A. DRAGSET — Stout Institute.
Mr. Dragset has plenty to do,
As Junior advisor and teaching woodworking, too.

MARY ELWELL — B. S., Miami University.
The REVIEW causes her many trials,
She pulls through with many smiles.

RUTH EWING — B. A., Muskingum College; B. S. in L. S., Drixel Institute of Technology.
If in doubt about a book,
See Miss Ewing, she'll tell you where to look.

R. O. FLUDDER — Bradley Polytechnic Institute, Miami.
The Red Cross came to him for aid,
So in his classes canes were made.

RUTH FOSTER — B. Sc., Lindenwood College, Ohio State University.
Coats and frocks she helps us design,
Everyone knows she's good in this line.

GLADYS GANTER — B. A., Capital; Middlebury English School, Cincinnati, Miami.
She makes Latin II so clear;
As senior advisor, she's a dear!

CHRIST F. GECKLER — B. S., Miami; Cincinnati.
As Honor Society advisor he is tops,
In teaching chemistry, he never stops.

RICHARD GOOS — B. S., Ohio; M. A., Columbia.
Bookstore, football, and history,
Keep Mr. Goos as busy as a bee.

MARJORIE E. GRAFFT — A. B., M. A., Miami, Columbia University.
Miss Margorie Grafft is a friend indeed
To Honor Society when they are in need.

JAMES GRIMM — B. S., Ohio U.; M. A., Columbia.
He really makes us exercise;
We plan to do it for the rest of our lives.

JAMES HALL — B. S., Cincinnati; Miami.
A veteran who returned to Hamilton High;
To take up the teaching he left behind.

IRVIN C. HAMILTON — B. Sc., Miami; National Music Camp, Cincinnati Conservatory of Music.
Hamilton High's own musician,
Can he ever write those compositions!

MARY P. HECK — A. B., Miami; M. A., Middlebury French School.
Many trials and tribulations she has had,
Work on the Annual is over—we know she is glad.

PRUDENCE C. HEERMANN — B. Sc. in Ed., Miami, Ohio U., Columbus Office Training School.
Understanding, thoughtful, kind,
When it comes to her subjects, she's right on the line.

LORETTA M. HEHL — A. B., Hiram; M. A., Ohio State; Miami.
A great English teacher people claim her to be,
And did she work for the Annual—Yes, siree!

JOHN HOCK — B. S., Ph.D., M. A., Cincinnati; Ohio State; University of Pittsburgh.
Retail selling he teaches so well,
Students think this veteran is swell!

JOHN HOLDEN — B. S., M. A., Ohio U.; Ohio State.
A veteran advisor he is appointed to be,
He fills the job with the greatest of ease.

PAUL ICKES — B. Sc., Ohio State; M. A., Iowa.
This teacher has a lot to do
As business manager of the REVIEW.

MARGARET F. JOHNSON — B. S., B. S., Ohio State University; Middlebury College.
Espanol causes students many trials,
But she makes them come through with many smiles.

DANA M. KING — B. S. in Ed., Ohio U.; Northwestern; Ohio State.
With Coach King at the helm,
Hamilton High's football forces roam the realm.

R. E. McQUISTON — B. S., Muskingum; Miami.
He really tells us what to do;
And he never does seem blue.

MARY McCABE — B. A., Otterbein; M. A., N. Y. U.
Miss McCabe is everyone's friend,
Her time and patience she'll always lend.

HELEN McPHERSON — B. S., MacMurray; U. of Ill.
She really is on the ball,
And you can hear her teaching health way down the hall.

LOUISE METCALFE — A. B., Wilmington College.
Whenever you are deep in doubt,
Mrs. Metcalfe is glad to help you out.

WINSTON METCALFE — B. S., Wilmington College.
Mathematics is down his line,
We students think he's really fine.

CHARLES MILLIGAN — A. B., Wilmington College.
Physics really racks the brain,
But Mr. Milligan puts it over, and that's his aim.

WILLIAM MITCHELL
Head of the N. Y. A. shops,
He works, and works, and never stops.

ANTHONY MORENO — B. S., Miami University; M. A., University of Michigan; University of Mexico.
One of our Spanish teachers is he,
Abounding in pep and energy.

EDITH MUNNEKE — B. Sc., Kansas State Teachers College.
Here is just a little tip—
This English teacher is full of zip.

CARRIE A. NIEHOFF — B. S., Miami University; University of Chicago; Carnegie Institute of Technology.
Teacher of arts and crafts is she.
About her work she goes merrily.

CLARA E. RAMSEY — A. B., Miami University; Columbia University; Chicago University.
Punic Wars and the glory of Rome,
Are some of the lessons she drives home.

RALPH ROSENDALE — B. S., O. S. U; Columbia.
Angles and triangles are full of tricks,
But Mr. Rosendale makes them stick.

MILDRED T. SCHWAB — B. Sc., Miami University.
Bring on speeches, bring on debate,
These she coaches and oh! how we rate!

MADGE SHAPER — A. B. S., Miami University; Schuster-Martin School of Drama.
Mathematics and music are really fine,
Miss Shaper, don't think we're feeding you a line.

HARVEY N. SOLLENBERGER — B. S., Miami.
Pivot shots and boys' health cause him unrest,
But his boys and pupils really pass the test.

RALPH STEIGER — B. S. in Ed., Miami.
This veteran smiles the whole day through
And teaches English with a friendly hue.

FOREST VALENTINE — A. B., Otterbein College; Ohio State University; Miami University.
Mr. Valentine is as busy as can be,
He teaches seniors chemistry.

CATHARINE VAN MATRE — B. A., Wittenburg College; University of Chicago.
A math teacher of Hamilton High.
With her the period whizzes by.

EDNA WALTHERS — B. S., Miami University; M. A., Columbia University.
No finer teacher can be found,
She keeps our heads turning round and round.

ROBERT H. WIECHE — B. Sc., Ohio State.
The largest teacher of Hamilton High,
He says "Hello" as we go by.

FRANCES WELSH — B. S. in Education, Miami University; University of Cincinnati.
Tipety-tap is all you hear,
We'll hate to leave her without a tear.

BLANCHE WOOLLEY — B. S. in Ed., Cincinnati.
Now here is an English teacher we do tell,
Of drama and grammar she knows all-so well.

VERA ZIEPFEL — B. S., Miami University.
We think this teacher is really fine,
With her we'd like to spend all our time.

Class History

We, the mighty seniors of 1946, can recall very clearly one September morn in 1943 when we crept timidly into the halls of Hamilton High School, hoping that none of the upper classmen would see us. We certainly were very green sophomores, invariably getting into the wrong rooms and always forgetting that we belonged to Hamilton High School instead of to Roosevelt or Wilson.

The first day of school June Fowler and Dick Koehler of the class of '44 made us feel a little relieved after they had given their welcome addresses. It took us a few days to get onto the tricks, but before long we were no different from the rest of the "kids". Those were the days. No one had assigned assembly seats and every one rushed like mad to sit with that certain someone.

In the course of the first semester Mr. Wickham, who had recently become superintendent of schools, announced to the studes that everyone would take the exams. Everyone's chin dropped two inches but we had to grin and bear it.

By the time first semester ended we all knew one another, so we chose Patt Stoll and Melvin Rowsey as cheer leaders to help us catch the true "Blue" spirit. Since a class would not be complete without class officers, we took it upon ourselves to elect Darrel Brown, president; Patt Stoll, vice-president; Sue Brenner, secretary; Jean Smith, treasurer; and Jack Confer, program chairman.

We felt we were getting to be privileged characters now, as we had a class party during school time. This party proved to be a huge success (mainly because it was on school time); and also because our class advisors, Miss Margaret Johnson, Miss Frances Welsh, Miss Dorothy Beaver, and Mr. Robert MacQuiston, worked so diligently to help us make it so.

After a year of school work, sports, and activities we felt much wiser and older. Though we had had a happy and profitable year, summer vacation was not unwelcome.

The summer passed very quickly and it wasn't long until we received through the mail our schedules for the junior year. After much ado with Mr. John O. Fry, our principal, we got our schedules changed to suit our whims. Only one thing marred our happiness; the armed forces were taking some of our fellows from school. Since nothing could be done about it, we raised our heads and reassembled in these halls of higher learning as juniors. We re-elected Darrel Brown as our president. Jim Wagner was elected vice-president and Sue Brenner, secretary-treasurer. Something new had been added to the band. What do you know! Majorettes Betty Reiff, Edith Jerdon and Shirley Skjoldager really did their stuff when it came to strutting and twirling. Dick Raab and Dillard Marcum also did some neat stepping in front of the band.

Then came our junior party, which proved to be one of the high-lights of the fall. After this party these old halls seemed very quiet until Senor Jame Malagon, from Bolivia, came to our school as a guest and teacher for several weeks. This South American neighbor made a great impression among the girls. In fact the males were getting quite jealous.

During the second semester some of our more intellectual members were inducted into the National Honor Society. "Janie", the school play, had everyone rolling in the aisles and was pronounced one of the best plays presented in H. H. S. for quite some time.

The school term was near its close when we juniors were faced with a grave situation. Some wanted our dance formal while others wanted it informal. After much debate and controversy, it was finally decided that formal dress would be optional. It turned out a huge success. This completed the affairs of our junior year. We bade our masters a tearful (?) goodby, but we felt proud that we were going to take their places in the fall as seniors. We hoped that we could do as good a job as they had done. We thanked our advisors, Miss Mary Banker Mr. Adolph Dragset, Mr. Winston Metcalfe, Mrs. Edith Munneke, and Miss Edna Walthers, for a happy year and separated for a well-earned vacation. We had rejoiced over V. E. Day and hoped with all our hearts that V. J. Day would have come and gone before we should all reassemble again in our beloved halls. It came in August and we looked forward to our last year with the hope that it might be a little more nearly normal.

So, on September 9, 1945, a proud group of students inherited the exalted position of seniors and also all the prestige that goes with such an austere title. We gloated over the poor sophomores for a few days but then settled down to work for our diplomas. All of us were relieved when we found that Miss Ella Mae Cope, Miss Marjorie Grafft and Mr. Richard Goos had not disappointed us and we still were to have the pleasure of studying the well-known (?) history of the United States. For weeks we were going around mumbling dates and names. We were going to conquer it or else. (And we did conquer it; at least most of us did.)

After a few weeks of school the yearbook staff was chosen, officers of the various clubs and our senior officers were elected. To guide us through the year we chose James Wagner, president; Hazel West, vice-president; Edith Jerdon, secretary; Darrel Brown, treasurer. They really did a grand job. Our advisors this year were to be Miss Gladys Ganter, Miss Mary Heck, Miss Carrie Niehoff, Mr. Ralph Rosendale, and Mr. Forrest Valentine.

In October we had our annual senior party which we called a Pin-up Prance. We really had the male models, — tall, short, fat and thin. Some were alluring, others were devastating.

In December Mr. Irvin Hamilton pulled his bag of tricks from the closet to present a very lovely Mid-Year Merriment. Great talent was shown all through this performance, and we seniors had no small part of it.

For several weeks we were kept quite busy being measured for our caps and gowns, having our senior pictures taken, and ordering class rings. By the way things were going we thought that Commencement was just a few weeks away instead of eight months.

Organizations came into vogue. A few of those formed were a Red Cross committee, Future Teachers, Spanish Club, French Club, etc. A Senior Guidance project was also promoted for the purpose of preparing the seniors to meet the problems of the world.

This year Mr. Anthony Moreno directed our school play. It was entitled "George Washington Slept Here." Although it was different from those of other years, it proved to be a success.

Ordering announcements reminded us of the approaching Commencement. Those brainy people of our class took the senior scholarship tests. They were hoping and praying that they could beat Middletown. Our days as seniors of Hamilton High were passing too quickly.

Mr. Moreno again came back with a hit. "He Was a Gay Senorita" was presented by the Spanish classes. It was a neat affair decked with gay costumes. Spanish music helped to set the atmosphere.

Before long our caps and gowns were selected and we picked our Commencement and Class Night speakers. We began practicing for these affairs. It would be only a short time now.

Class Night was an exuberant affair. We shall remember it for a long, long time. At Commencement we all got a funny feeling in our stomachs and tears came to our eyes, but after it was over, we left the school with a feeling of pride and accomplishment that we had never felt before. In our memories we shall cherish the thoughts which we possessed during our stay at good "ole" Hamilton High School.

We Chant Our Prophecy

The entire staff of "Our Chant" was working together in Irwin, Quebec, publishing a catalogue advertising "Lingler's Lazy Lodge" which is located near Belew Lakes in the George Hills, when Herb Johnson, now editor of "Hear, Feel, and Smell", a publication that had been promoted by Lazares and Lakeman as a competitor to "Look", remembered that this was the fifteenth anniversary of our graduation and suggested that we go to Hamilton, Ohio, to relive a typical day at Hamilton High School. In answer to our inquiry, we received a letter from Principal Don Potter stating that he would grant a holiday to this year's senior class and invite the class of '46 to fill their places and celebrate the day with us.

We bought our train tickets from Mona Buttery and boarded the "Warndorf Flyer" which would take us directly to the rapidly progressing city of Hamilton. We bought some peanuts from Dickie Henes and sat back to enjoy the trip. When we arrived at the new Brenner Union Terminal, we were greeted by many familiar faces among whom were Phyllis Garrison, Patti Jackson, Jean Bachman, Marian Lakes, Peggy Stricker, and Janice Hazard, who had been the feminine basketball stars in high school; Carl Halen and Bob Dick, noted musicians; Dr. Robert Hayner; and our professional football player, Bill McCormick. Mary Louise Zornow, head of the Lane Library, told us that Rex Minton, railroad executive, had been instrumental in the construction of this beautiful terminal. We took a Rauch Cab to the Hoon Hotel and spent the night there.

The big day arrived at last and everyone was gathered in the cherished halls of H.H.S. discussing the latest news and developments. Nearing the library we could hear a heated debate over the possibilities of a one-hundredth element by the world renowned scientists, Joseph Seymour, Ray Huff, Richard Pfaffman, and Kenneth Glover. Admiring the beautiful murals on the first floor, painted by those famed artists, Jean Hage, Jan Carroll, Dan Beaver, Jean Biegert, and John Brown, were Attorneys Vaden Fitton and Thomas Webster, Dr. Louis Wynn, The Reverend Hal Meier, and accountant Richard Belew. As we passed the main office we saw Assistant Principal Homer Davis and Dean of Girls Joan Slifer talking to office secretaries, Madeline Inloes, June Utsler, Wanda Browning, and Hazel West.

Getting their mail in the office were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Perry (Maryann Johnson), swimming instructors at the new pool constructed by Thomas Demoret and Don Durrough.

We happened to glance at the office clock just as Ed Kurs, head of the maintenance department told us we had one minute before the tardy bell. As we dashed up the hall, we noticed on all the locker doors snapshots of those beautiful Power's Models, Edith Jerdon, Pat Schlosser, Jo Ann App, Dorothy Turnbull, and Anne Grosvenor.

Our home room teacher was none other than that lovable Miss Hanaford. As we glanced around the room we saw all of our former classmates dressed according to their occupations. There was art instructor Marian Dove, furniture dealer Herb Feldman, foresters Carl Cohn and Bob Dyer, registered nurses Betty Eyler, Mary Jane Deister, Margie Dully, Mitzi Dister, Marjorie Gardner, and Jane Newkirk. Bob Dawson, wealthy manufacturer, was busy selling tickets for the world's championship bout between Mike "Muscles" Morrison and the defending champ, Jim Dulli, to be held in Hamilton at Marcus' Round Garden.

At 8:30 the bell rang for our first class, chemistry. Our instructor, Darrel Brown, gave a thirty minute explanation of the Dawson Process and then we were given the last half of the period to experiment in the newly equipped lab. Paul Laubenstein, Harry Lander, Orville Andrews, Bill Anderson, and Kendall Johnson, all well established businessmen, finished with an amorphous substance which smelled worse than hydrogen sulfide.

We were all very glad when the bell rang to move to our second period class, even if it was U. S. history. Harry Condiles had arranged a small 100 question quiz for his students, but since this was such a special occasion he decided to hold a club meeting. Captain Wilbur Evans, Lieutenant Howard Cawein, and Colonel Walter Cates, who have made the Army their career were there to talk on the program.

The popular recreation class down the hall was singing "How Do You Do, You Do" so loudly that it was hard for Dick Nelson and Donna Hardin to keep them under control.

In third period English class Miss Bradbury led a discussion on the latest Grieselhuber novel, "The Rivalry of Two Cities", several short stories by Carole Blumenthal, and a book of poetry by Carolyn and Marilyn Bovard.

Immediately after the third period everyone gathered in the dining room managed by Kathryn Roemer and Patty Danford. While we were eating the delicious meal it was announced over the loud speaker system, installed by Jim Dickerscheid, that there would be an assembly after lunch. On our way to the auditorium we saw Mr. and Mrs. Neil Schalk (Margie Biehl), Mr. and Mrs. Peter Poulemanos (Jean Smith), and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Confer (Virginia Campbell). Taking their old jobs as ushers were Betty Hahn, Pat Brewer, Audrey Hunter, and Marilyn Massey.

The orchestra conducted by the noted composer Roy Hileman opened the assembly by playing "Hail, Class of '46" by Katherine Buehling and Helen Hetzler. This was followed by a medley of Arthur Donges' tunes. A skit entitled, "Through the Years", was presented by Broadway stars, Jane Arent, Russell McMahan, Gerry Mullins, and Betty Bartels; soloists from the Metropolitan, Don Billard, Jane Sloan, Kenneth Koger, and Leona Oglesby; and dancers Betty Reiff and Nellie Lou Downie. Master of Ceremonies was Gene Kaefer, owner of Hamilton's largest grocery.

At the end of the assembly we were sent to our sixth period classes. As we passed room 210 we saw a group of teachers among whom we recognized Dorothy Schuber, Dorothy Mulberry, June Daugherty, Elaine Bowman, and Charlotte Brockman. We were scheduled for psychology taught by Joe Lowenstein. Dr. Caroline Dilg and Psychologist Ann Welliver kept a lively discussion going and for the first time we were sorry to hear the 2:50 bell ring.

After school the staff went to Frybarger's drugstore, but we didn't stay very long for we had planned a big night. The class of '46 was going to get revenge for the Middletown basketball games by playing another contest with that same team, (Bolton, Lansaw, Keller, Blevins, and Wells.) The Big Blue made the day complete by defeating the Middies 36 to 34. Treinen, Kincer, Barger, Wagner, Tullis, Huston, and Hull all turned in sparkling performances.

JUNIOR CLASS

LET'S GO THRU

FOREWORD OF JUNIORS

Officers elected by the class of 1947 were: George Grathwohl, President; Bob Lee, Vice-President; Pat Newman, Secretary; and Henry Long, Treasurer.

Senate members comprised: Dorcas Allen, Janet Bauer, Evelyn Day, Jo Ann Holbrock, Don Kern, Betty Pabst, Don Pentecost, Joyce Simmons, and Mary Lou Waggoner.

Mrs. Edith Munneke, Miss Edna Walthers, Mr. Winston Metcalfe, and Mr. Adolph Dragset served as junior class advisors.

Last fall the class began its activities with a successful party, the "Corn Carnival". Kenny Schrudder's band provided music for the dancing in the upper gym and the auxiliary gym was lined with booths and decorated to resemble a carnival. Their last big event of the year was the Junior Prom.

The Cathedral—Essay

Great, looming up against the sky is the cathedral, making all around it seem infinitesimal. The tall steeple, seeming to scrape the outer borders of heaven; the large clock, giving forth its ding-dong at the appropriate time; and the beautifully stained gothic windows of the Madonna and Christ; these are the cathedral.

Passing from the dazzling sunlight without into the dusky shadows within is like bounding from high noon into the twilight hours of evening. Two rows of slender white candles on either side of the altar send out their flickering light as a beacon to show you the way. Hark! Deep rumbling, soft running notes from the great organ come forth as water from a fountain in an unsteady stream. A great outpour now with rousing sounds, a little outpour after with peaceful sounds. The silence now is as a lull before a storm, complete and unbroken. Peace steals over all. It is like a coat on a cold frosty day, warming and comforting; like sleep to a weary traveler, resting and good; like rain in a needy time to the farmer, uplifting. This peace elicits sorrow and pain and leaves only quiet joy and happiness; joy and happiness that could be found only in the cathedral.

In the process of passing out I pause to take a parting look at the beauty of the altar and the candles and to envelop more of the peace within. Outside again I pause to view the greatness and the outside beauty. Slowly I drift away out of the sight of the cathedral, or so I thought; but as I turn, I see the steeple seemingly up among the clouds. Continuing on my way, I pause again for the last time for the last lingering look. Far away now the view is gone but I still have the image and the peace of the cathedral stamped upon my mind.

ADULT EDUCATION

Something new has been added! Yes, something new has been added in the educational program of Hamilton — adult education in night school. This program, although not a new idea in Hamilton for it has been talked of before, has finally been put into effect.

There are two fundamental plans offered to the student in this program of night school:

1. The formal and informal classes of adult evening school of 15 or more students.

2. The individualized adult education plan by which the student may have the benefit of the knowledge of the teachers of Hamilton or take a college or trade correspondence course.

One thing so very remarkable about this program of night school in Hamilton is that many of the students started at different times, took irregular schedules, and finished the course at different times. This means that each student can go at his own rate of speed, according to his capacity to learn.

Another feature that is unique is the fact that the cost per pupil decreases as the number of pupils increase.

SOPHOMORE ACTIVITIES

The sophomore class, six-hundred and forty-three strong, elected its officers in a guidance program in the auditorium on March first.

The annual sophomore party was held March twenty-second. The class met first in the auditorium with a program consisting of dances, singing, instrumentals, and a hillbilly number. A master of ceremonies and other outside talent was brought in. Later the class went to the gym for dancing to Roy Hileman's orchestra.

SENIOR PHILOSOPHY

Each day I do two things I dislike very much: Every day I get up and each night I go to bed.

— o —

Some people don't lie — they merely present the truth in such a way that nobody recognizes it.
But the truth of the whole thing is we certainly will miss these old halls of learning, now that we are just a part of the school echoes. Our thoughts of study, fun, laughter, will long linger here. And listen all you forthcoming seniors, juniors, and sophomores, — don't do as we did but as we always told you to do. Remember the advice from your elders is always correct. So until we meet again, goodbye and good luck to all of you.

CLUBS

FOREWORD FOR ORGANIZATIONS

In addition to the work of the classroom Hamilton High School offers to its students varied opportunities for training and the development of leadership through organizations and student activities. Departmental and other clubs have been organized in order that a student may supplement class interests with projects and programs, and that he may have the opportunity to work at these with his fellow pupils.

It is believed that the student will have an enriched school life if he is an active member of at least one club. This part of his education should serve also to prepare him for better participation in the later requirements of citizenship.

The History Club

INTERESTED IN A MOVIE

The outstanding achievement of the American History Club for the year 1946 was the establishment of a scholarship of one hundred dollars annually, for a needy boy at Caney Creek Community Center, Pippapass, Kentucky. Caney Creek is a Junior College in the wilderness of the Kentucky hills. Thirty years ago there was no post office in what is now the town of Pippapass. Few of the mountaineers could then read or write. Today Pippapass has an educational set up from primary grades through two years of college. It is the aim of the History Club to see that James Stewart, the High School lad chosen for his scholarship, secures both his college and medical education. A box of clothes was sent to the boy which was donated by the various club chapters.

A second scholarship gift of fifty dollars was sent to Lincoln Memorial University at Harrogate, Tennessee. J. B. Meyer is the student being assisted.

One hundred dollars was added by the History Club of 1946 to the American History Award "Trust Fund" in commemoration of the twentieth anniversary of the founding of the Fund. Established by the History Club of 1926 an award is made at the annual Commencement to that senior who is voted, by a majority of his class, the "best all-around" senior. The award which was originally a twenty dollar gold piece has been a war bond in recent years. Don Barger of 1946 was the twenty-first person to receive the award.

Contributions were made as usual to the Community Chest, the Red Cross, the Children's Home, The Salvation Army and the Infantile Paralysis fund.

For the first time in five years club pins were available and members are now wearing the pin that was adopted many years ago. The Annual Dinner-Dance was held on February fourteenth at the Y. W. C. A. Transportation difficulties still preclude the old time trip to Williamsburg and Washington and limited the Club to a one day bus trip. The annual picnic at Le-Sourdsville Lake closed the club year.

REVIEW STAFF

In a large school such as Hamilton High, there are many duties to be performed by those who work on the school paper. The Weekly Review exerts a large influence on the students, because it acquaints them with the news of the school, past, present, and future.

The success or failure of the paper cannot be given to one department. The entire staff composes the paper and all are responsible for the paper's being.

The editorial staff edits, writes, and corrects the paper. The exchange editor sees that The Review is sent to other schools and subscribers. The typists type the copy and are a very important department.

The business staff is responsible for the soliciting of adds and the general managing of circulation and collection.

QUILL AND SCROLL

Quill and Scroll is a national honorary organization for high school and college newspapers. There has been a chapter in Hamilton high school for the past seven years.

To be eligible for membership a student must have written for the school paper a minimum of four semesters and have at least 100 column inches. During the first semester of this school year five new members were accepted. This makes a total of eight members.

When a person has served on the staff for the required length of time he must select what he believes to be his best article and send it in to be judged. If the article is approved the applicant is accepted into the organization.

STUDENT COUNCIL

A colorful chapter has been closed in the history of the Student Council at Hamilton High School.

This year the Student Council sold 1308 activity tickets at $4.50 each, making a total of $5886.00.

One of the highlights of the year was the crowning of the Victory Queen, Mary Lou Waggoner. Her attendants included: Seniors, Mary Jane Deister and Virginia Lebo; Junior, DeeDee MacGregor; Sophomores, Marilyn Brown and Patty Welliver.

During the year the Student Council has sold $53,000 in War Bonds and stamps. This contribution to the war effort was made possible by the excellent spirit and cooperation of all the students.

Another interesting feature was the sponsoring of a religious Christmas assembly given just before the holiday.

The Student Council also collected toys and food for the Salvation Army.

One of the most interesting of all Student Council activities was The Kay Kayser Program.

The Student Council has done a splendid job this year and it thanks all the students for their excellent cooperation.

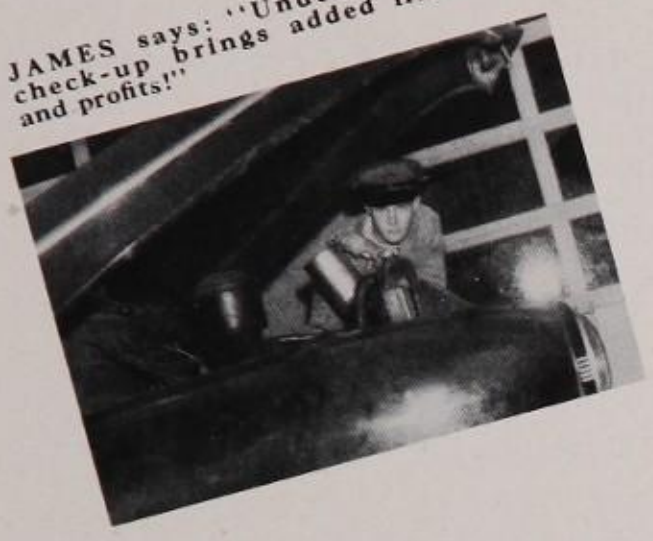
Retail Selling Trainees



JAMES says: "Under-the-hood check-up brings added friends—and profits!"

GLORIA says: "Learning window display is fun when your teacher is a former co-op."

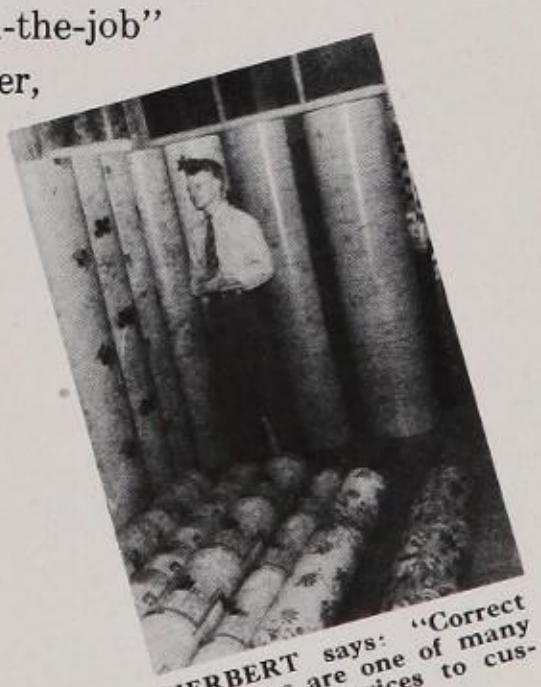
SAM says: "Marking merchandise requires accuracy and co-operation."

These trainees ("co-ops" to you) are members of Hamilton's only co-operative class. They attend school four periods each day, and spend their afternoons working in local retail stores. Their instruction includes theory of salesmanship, directed discussion of actual work experiences, as well as an introduction to the technical aspects of the distributive occupations such as stock control, marketing principles, advertising and display, and store management.

The co-op job provides each student with a practical testing laboratory for classroom theory, and each "on-the-job" performance is supervised by the teacher, and graded by the employer.

DORIS says: "Store system is designed to prevent disagreements with customers."

MARY ANN says: "Your department head knows the short cuts to effective interior display."



HERBERT says: "Correct estimates are one of many important services to customers."

A Ritualistic Triangle

DE MOLAY, A YOUNG MAN'S ORGANIZATION

Hamilton Chapter, Order of De Molay, sponsored by Masonic bodies, is an organization for young men of high caliber between the ages of 14 and 21. Its purposes are clean living, high moral standards, preparation for citizenship, and promoting good clean fellowship. These purposes are accomplished by methods which are both appealing and beneficial to any young man. A few of the activities of Hamilton Chapter are sports, dances, parties, outings, and ritualistic work. Some of these activities are portrayed here.

GIRLS' HI-Y

The Girls' Hi-Y offers to every interested high school girl the opportunity to learn "to face life squarely" and "to find and give the best". The Girl Reserve symbol is the triangle within the circle. The triangle represents the individual club member, the three sides standing for body, mind, and spirit. The circle represents the world in which she lives.

Throughout the year the Girls' Hi-Y has sponsored many activities, such as the Friday night open houses, numerous service projects, school assemblies, Maggie and Jiggs Dance, Holy Week services, the annual conference, camp, and others.

Boys' Hi-Y—Continued

The Hamilton Boys' Hi-Y consists of five chapters. Lambda for seniors, Delta Chi for juniors and seniors, Cen-Ten for juniors, and Chi Rho and Delta Gamma for sophomores. It is affiliated with the area and national Hi-Y fellowship and the local Y. M. C. A.

The general policies and activities affecting all chapters are controlled by a council consisting of the president, program chairman and advisor of each chapter and members of the Hi-Y committee of the Y. M. C. A.

Members accept the Hi-Y purpose "To create, maintain, and extend throughout the school and community high standards of Christian character.

Many of the major activities of the past year have been held under joint auspices of the girls' Hi-Y — such as the annual Hi-Y conference, the weekly Hi-Y open house at the Y. W. C. A., the Thanksgiving and Easter assemblies, the Pre-Easter services, and the Hi-Y camp to be held at Camp Campbell Gard as soon as school closes.

All chapters meet weekly at the Y. M. C. A. where discussions, speakers, movies and activity planning make up the programs. Other outstanding activities include the annual boat ride, the New Year's Eve ball, and chapter parties at camp.

FUNCTIONS OF GUIDANCE COMMITTEES

SOPHOMORE — The purpose of the sophomore guidance program has been to acquaint these new people with the physical, social, and educational features of the high school. To this end, charts showing the building plan were distributed the first day. Later lessons have dealt with rules and traditions of the school clubs and activities, manners, value of study, and choice of subjects for next year.

JUNIOR — The junior guidance program this year has emphasized the importance of personal and social relationships in the life of every boy and girl. The main purpose of the junior guidance period has been to give the boys and girls a chance to think about and discuss attitudes and traits of character that will help them to live more graciously with other people.

SENIOR — The purpose of the senior guidance committee is to promote better understanding about problems after graduation. It deals with life after graduation and the problems adults face in later life. This committee brings to the registration rooms various problems such as how to apply for a position or college, personal welfare, and military training.

Art Club

Drawing is a universal language and, like all languages, requires study and perseverance before it can be mastered. Many professions and occupations depend upon a thorough knowledge of this basic language. The designer must be able to present his ideas skillfully if others are going to build from his drawings; for every house, every ship, every airplane, every automobile there must be tons and tons of drawings. The world progresses through the efforts of men working creatively with vision and imagination. In fact, art is the common denominator that should help us to achieve our dream of "One World". At Hamilton High School we strive to give every youth registered in the art department at least a fair opportunity to experience the arts as an absorbing vocational interest in the direction of mere appreciation or on the basis of participation and to make him art conscious in his everyday life and living. In short, we believe that, definitely, art deals with realities and not with the classic fads and frills.

These are some of our friends who have had charge of the tickets and money for the plays and musicals put on by the school. You may have seen them chasing after Mr. Valentine to check up with him or asking people for their tickets or money which should have been turned in days before.

CONFLICT

I, Myself and Me, to others,
  We're all the same small guy;
But inside there's bound to be,
  Me, Myself, and I.

We three are quite a company.
  We fight among ourselves,
But work to put more knowledge
  Upon our mental shelves.

Now Me is quite a showoff,
  Grandstanding for the crowd;
But I am shy and bashful
  And seldom speak out loud.

Myself is rather bossy;
  He tells Me what is right,
And I am getting tired of this.
  Do these guys have to fight?

If I could just get rid of one,
  I'd make him wear a shroud.
Because you know that two is fun,
  And three is just a crowd.

A PRAYER FOR YOUTH

God, grant words of everlasting truth;
Lord, lend aid to energetic youth.
Take of us —
Make of us —
Fill us with great learning.
Lord, our hearts are yearning
For Thy care.

Lend Thy light, and lead us in Thy way;
Lift our striving souls, we dearly pray.
Hear us now —
Cheer us now —
Lord, cast out our sorrow,
Turn us towards tomorrow —
This our prayer.

God, we join the never-ceasing throng;
Guide us, let temptation lead to wrong.
'Tend our lives —
Blend our lives —
Hear our earnest pleading;
Lord, our hearts are bleeding
For the day.

Gladly, God, Thy praises do we sing;
Place in us a bell and let it ring.
Grasp our hand —
Understand —
Lord, for Thee we're living;
God, be Thou forgiving —
This we pray.

EARL BIEGERT, Junior
Second place in poetry.

THE IDIOT — JOE

All day long with a vacant stare,
Along in the sweet clear spring air,
With naked feet he wanders slow
Over the city — the idiot, Joe.

I often marvel just why he was born,
A child of humanity thus forlorn,
Unloved, unnoticed by all below;
A cheerless thing is the life of Joe.

Beauty can throw no spell o'er him;
His inner vision is so weak and dim,
And Nature in all her varied show
Wears no charm for the eyes of Joe.

The earth may wake at the kiss of spring,
Flowers may blossom and birds may sing,
With joy the crystal stream flow;
They never make glad the heart of Joe.

His vague and wandering thoughts unfold
No dreams of glory, no schemes of gold;
He knows not of the blight of hopes,
Yet, O, a blighted thing is the life of Joe.

Who would not suffer ills of life,
Its numberless wrongs, its sin and strife,
And willingly bear its weight of woe,
Rather than be the idiot, Joe.

I think of him in the silent night,
When every star seems a beacon light,
To guide us wanderers here below
To the better land — the home of Joe.

For He who hears when the ravens call,
And watches even the sparrow's fall,
He in his measureless love, I know,
Will kindly care for the soul of Joe.

SPORT PARADE

BIG BLUE !!

FOREWORD TO SPORTS

What would our dear old school do without athletics? At the basketball dinner this spring seats of honor were given to five members of Hamilton High's first basketball team back in 1901. Since that time sports have gradually gained a greater place in our school life, until today we have many teams which compete every year with other schools. In addition to this all boys and girls have opportunity to participate in intra-murals. All this gives training in good sportsmanship and develops qualities which will be valuable in our later lives. Yes, we think athletics are an important part of our curriculum.

OVER THE SHOULDER

SEPTEMBER

5. Assemblies—fun—(this is only the beginning).
6. Don Kinch looks over the sophomores.
7. Sophomores overlook Don Kinch—Ahhhh!
8. Many found at the last dance at the Lake. Good-bye summer vacation.
9. Sleep — Oops, I beg your pardon, there goes my Victory garden — Sunday School — of course.
10. First blue Monday and I mean it was a shade hard to get up.
11. Homework begins. Night life ends. (right in the middle).
12. Sophomores confused. Seniors amazed. Juniors in the middle of it all.
13. Have you seen the new gym teacher? We haven't; we skipped gym.
14. Dayton Fairview — We won. 25 — 0. Good start — huh!
15. There were so many things to do tonight that no one did anything at all. Things are tough all over.
16. Only 35 more weeks of school. Patty Schlosser busy preparing for vacation.
17. Little Dickie Henes decides to dedicate this day to learning his A.B.C.'S.
18. Big Vaden Fitton gets large charge out of Richard Dister assembly.
19. Lovely models lend attractions at Hi-Y.
20. Robert Hayner leaves us to be a campus Jack.
21. Treinen shines. Hughes 6 — Hamilton — 19.
22. Juke Box Saturday Night Dance — Barbara Benjamin dances in the arms of a dream.
23. Butler County Fair in full sway — Us in full school. Ugh!
24. Sophomores watch books.
25. Senior boys watch sophomore girls.
26. Teachers watch senior boys.
27. Teachers "night-club-it" at Y.W.C.A.
28. Big Blue trounces Roger Bacon 6 to 0. Wagner proves to be "Big Gun."
29. If you want a good example of a flowering romance, they're Gene and Mary Lou or Don and Sue.
30. If you don't want a good example of a flowering romance — how about a street car and bring your own lunch?

OCTOBER

1. Another month. 'Nough said.
2. Mr. Bohlander tells of "Art, the Universal Language".
3. Fire Drill: Jack Wooley carries his books out for their first airing.
4. Just another "weak" day.
5. Western Hills upsets Big Blue in the mud, 13 — 12.
6. Confer back in Saturday night swing, breaking the women's hearts.
7. Confer goes to church to repent. — Ha!
8. After an all embracing week-end everyone was really "hep" in school Monday. Johnny Andrews went to sleep in U.S. as usual.
9. Georgette Grieselhuber — Kendall Johnson romance begins.
10. Georgette Grieselhuber — Kendall Johnson romance ends.
11. Perle Whitehead talks to boys on "Senior Scouting".
12. Hamilton trims Wilbur Wright 19 — 6.
13. We all agree with Don Tullis that it's a great life if your "don'ts" weaken.
14. The day of rest — and brother we got plenty of it.
15. Annual Staff fights on for a bigger and better "Annual". Hughes Speech contest — there.
17. Report cards — We all wish we could take home Jack Mostow's.
18. It's a beautiful night with a beautiful moon, but all we have is a lot of homework. Shoot!
19. Hamilton's feminine football fans give the Shawnee Hotel a break after our victorious game at Springfield. 34 — 6.
20. Lou "Dana Andrews" Wynn named Pin-up Boy of 1946. Calvin "Peroxide" Lingler voted Miss Hamilton High.
21. Middletown attracts the movie goers, because they get the shows before Hamilton — silly!
22. Navy program backed by two Marines. Girls carry drool cups.

DECEMBER

5. The National Forensic League begins big sale of pencils with the basketball schedule on them. Treasury reinforced once more.
6. Quite a successful Mid-Year Merriment. Soprano's delightful, Minstrel killing, Mr. Hamilton — proud, and why not?
7. Celebrated duet teams make their last performance in Merriment.
8. Dayton-Oakwood reigns again. Some day Hamilton is going to win one of those tournaments. Some day we're going to win a basketball game, too. Big Blue falls before Walnut Hills.
9. Recuperation after big week end.
10. Today begins our last week of school till 1946.
11. We get our report cards tomorrow. What a Christmas gift!
12. Play cast selected. Director Moreno announces that "George Washington Slept Here" is going to sweep Hamilton by storm. Talent scouts coming from all parts of the country.
13. Parties and more parties. Miss Cope presented with a live chicken for her Christmas dinner.
14. Hamilton Varsity team gets back on feet with a victory over Monroe.
15. Does it ever feel good to be free for two whole weeks! Yow — ser.
16. The snows come and ice skating becomes the seasons most active sport.
17. The girls' tumbling team performs at the Volleyball Banquet.
18. Hi-Y Camp Gard party frozen out. What a shame.
19. Patty Schlosser is still writing her Christmas letter. She must want an elevated one way road to Middletown.
20. After writing a 60 page letter P. S. finally finishes. Decided she'll settle for a discharged vet.
21. More good news. Sevenmile gives Feetball Dance a once over.
22. Dick Smith hangs up a shapely silk stocking. We wonder???
23. Gene Browning asks for a Rose with any other name from Santa.
24. Santa descends the chimney of all the little boys and girls. Susan Warndorf peeped and found Jim under the tree. How uncomfortable.
25. Everyone dreams of a white Christmas but gets a mushy one.
26. Harold Meier plays with his new Christmas toys and dolls.
27. N. F. L. Dinner-Dance. Wonderful dinner — one dance.
28. Close game with Fairview, but there wasn't any doubt who would win. — Ahem!
29. Holly — Folly proves to be very successful. Gala affair held at local hotel — Anthony Wayne, of course.
30. Burns Apfeld begins to study for the U. S. exam. There oughta be a law.
31. Ah — New Year's Eve. Some people went to the Hi-Y Dance. Some went to parties. Some people just went out, but there were those that sat at home. What a way to see the New Year in!!

JANUARY

1. Happy New Year's Day. After last night no one's eyes are open wide enough to see it but Happy New Year's Day anyway. I said it and I'm glad.
2. Every little student (????) drags himself back after the strenuous nightssss before. Tragedy.....!
3. Thursday.....Detention!!!!!!!
4. Chemistry classes are keeping up with current science events. Mr. Geckeler, "What is an atom?" Lois Kirk: "The husband of Eve".
5. Oh! Here comes Chick Taylor finally. Tch! Tch! Those New Year's Eve parties. Tch! Tch!!!!
6. Spanish classes send scrapbooks to South America.
7. Debate teams journey to Oxford, where they present the pros and cons of Compulsory Military Training.
8. Have you heard the new poem....."Men are a Mess?" If you smile at him, he thinks your're flirting, If you don't flirt, he thinks you're an iceburg.
9. Joint Meeting at Y-iH....Hi-Y spelled backwards. Is there a comedian in the crowd?

10. More of the aforementioned poem. If you let him kiss you, he wishes you were more reserved, If you don't, he'll seek consolation elsewhere.
11. Blue loses second Greater Ohio League tilt.
12. Defeat Dayton Chaminade. Quite an evening at the "Y" dance. Seemed as though everybody said "why" dance. Speech tournament at Roosevelt Jr. High. Debaters win be — au — ti — ful trophy.
13. Peg Stricker still being ribbed by Seven Mile's better basket ball team. Although she'll take the score keeper.
14. And this is the last time I will bother you with my manhater's rhyme.....But.....If you go out with other men, he thinks you're fickle. If you don't he thinks no one will have you. MENGOD BLESS THEM!!!!!!! DON'T KNOW WHAT THEY WANT.
15. Mary Ann Graft's hockey team wins championship. Frankie Wooten's team places second. Both teams limp through halls.
16. Home Ec. 'ers hear Priscilla Hall of Miami University speak on "Consumer Education".
17. French and German Clubs have been organized. We're just international around here, aren't we?
18. Hamilton beats Wildcat Cagers. Reserves also victorious. Mary Smith seems blue because the heart throbs team didn't come through. Traitor!!!!!!!
19. Speech contest in Springfield....Oh....the dirty looks because we won that game. Miss A. qualifies. Was she ever amazed? Russ McMahan had a busy day. After the speech contest he hurried home to the Boxing Match held same day.
20. 'Ere you left your room this morning, did you think to pray?
21. And to quote Bob Rowland: "Money means nothing to me, — nothing to spend!"
22. The lull before the storm. Exams next week. Teachers decide to give a few (?????) tests this week.
23. Music students of Conservatory give exceptionally fine program. Contralto sends all the "male" men.
24. Romance blooms in assembly when Vance becomes gallant. And Lingler saw it all.
25. It was a hard fight but Middletown did it again. Lovely dance at the "Y". Michael Vance in quite a mess, what with the woman he used to love and the woman he now loves both there. Tish — Tish.
26. More tish....M.V. now going steady with the woman he now loves. Woman he used to love makes the supreme sacrifice.
27. Cram....cram....cram. I hate old ugly exams.
28. The beginning of the end....EXAMS!
29. GLOOM——
30. GLOOM——
31. Ah — examinahun recuperashun. Seniors recuperate from examinashun recuperashun.

FEBRUARY

1. Dayton Roosevelt game here. Lowenstein forgets not to forget about the dance after the game and goes to the big city....Tish....and more tish. NO music....no dance. Lowenstein on trial.
2. "Buster" on rampage to whip the Big Reds (Hughes). "Pour it on" was the blood-thirsty cry.
3. You certainly can tell the ground hog saw his shadow. What a cold old nasty Sunday afternoon.
4. Back to school again with nothing to do but do it.
5. School is unusually quiet. Mike Cook has larengitis.
6. Typing film features G. Hossfeld — CHAMPION — Typists take up shorthand.
7. Cal Lingler still looking for his stolen horn. Everyone on the lookout.
8. Going away party for Franklin T. Taylor's still around, but keep faith. The Russians might start a war any day now.
9. Saturday at last....a day of rejoicing.
10. Frank Turner, just to be different, rejoicing.
11. Glenn Morris assembly. That's what the calendar of the Review stated. If it ever came off, we know not. No hard feelings, I hope, Mr. Morris.
12. Abe Lincoln's birthday. Speech classes tell of his virtues. Mrs. Schwab tells speech classes of their sins.
13. Holmes speech contest. Kentucky finds Hamilton stiff competition.

FEBRUARY

14. Aside from the fact that it's St. Valentine's Day.... the U. S. History Club holds its annual Dinner-Dance. A good time was had by all. Good food, good program, good music, goooooood deal!!!!
15. Norwood game....Anybody know how it came out That's what I like about this calendar....when you look back on it twenty years, you'll know just what happened.
16. Withrow beaten. Last home game of the season. Oh! what big bountiful men they have at Withrow. Ed Deister goes crazy to see his "big deal" buddies again. We can't help it if we're squares in this town.
17. U. S. History students (?) stay up all night fighting the War of 1812.
18. Joint Hi-Y party at the Y.W.C.A. Sophomores only. Was Connelly ever chagrined.
19. Girls bake cakes in Miss Dowty's classes. Others learn how to apply makeup. Boy....will the women of tomorrow be ideal!
20. "George Washington Slept Here" proves to be HUGE success. Just another "lost weekend." We're only kidding....It was only iced tea.
21. Second night was just as good. Cecil B. Moreno puts horse whip away until the Espanol play. What a tireless man!!
22. You can't say we don't celebrate our past Presidents' birthdays because aside from the fact that this is George Washington's, the Maggie and Jiggs Dance was in its usual spendor.
23. Alas....Middies trim Blues. Little get-to-gether at 196 North "F". The hours that some people will pay visits. Of course Rice gets down only on week-ends.
24. Warndorf, Wehrley, Bartels, and the rest are still drooling over long haired, classy dressed, Zinnzinnati fellas with Cadillac convertibles...and are you blaming them? Maybe Deister was right after all.
25. A-pol-o-gee to all of H.H.S. cookies (boys). So solly — pleeze.
26. Something is missing around the halls. Oh yes, Louie Wynn has gone to war.
27. Debte assembly on "Compulsory Military Training". Holmes (Kentucky) finds Hamilton not such stiff competition.
28. Louie calls Karlyn from Missouri. No love, no nothin' until my baby comes home. Guess whose theme song that is?

MARCH

1. March certainly came in like a lion, or was that Joe Seymour growling about getting up and going to school.
2. More birthdays this month. If you were born in March, 1928, you'll just about be graduating this year. Go — won!
3. Spring football starts early, we'll try to beat Middletown in "47".
4. Honor Society elects new members. Pete Poulemanos can't understand why he didn't make it this year. Figures that they just overlooked him.
5. Certain lass quite embarrassed in lunchroom. It seems that Sub-Debs were singing Happy Birthday!
6. Oh, dear, what can the matter be? John Hodiak steals all the feminine hearts at the local cinema.
7. Joke-ster presents ancient musical instruments. Quite a card. Mr. Hamilton digs out his old oboe and starts to practice.
8. Scholarship tests for Seniors. George Shipley sits on the outside waiting for somebody to crash the door.
9. If you didn't get your annual receipt, you won't ever be reading this, so just think how lucky some people were!
10. A case of mistaken identity. Bill McCormick is mistaken for a genuine "homo sapiens".
11. Teachers worn out after reading three page bulletin. My, isn't this a busy little school (?)
12. "Ling" still looking for his horn. Reward — payable as soon as his father starts his allowance again.
13. Marg Cook, Jackie Manning, and Marian Dove prove swimming skills. Joan Turner and Nancy Fry will get "Ohs" and "Ahs" for their super diving at the "Y" this coming Friday. Fortune teller I am!
14. Seniors order announcements. Don Billard despondent. He doesn't know whether to order or not. Lost $2.50 last year doing same.

MARCH

15. Juniors have big-um party. Sophomores wonder if they're the forgotten class.
16. "Is everybody happy?" said Ted Lewis to Pat, Mike, Gene and "who is it this week?" Oh, yes, Mary Lou.
17. The wearin' of the green is seen on St. Patrick's Day. By the way — who did put the overalls in Mrs. Murphy's chowder?
18. Has anybody finished his 50 slavery questions?
19. Has anybody written the 1000 word English theme? Does anybody know the answer to the $64 question?
20. S. C. Sorensen displays "great guns". S-t-r-o-p-e-r spelled backwards is Reports!
21. Charlie Belew informs Miss Woolley that he can't bring his report back to school. His grandparents are visiting over the weekend and he wants them to see it. Did that ever get a laugh!
22. More parties today. Sophomores finally get to celebrate. Hi-Y Open House. Stag party at Fitton's.
23. Wayne Preble still worried about his mother finding out about last night. Oh, my aching head.
24. The "Rentschlers" still Spring Holidaying. Tommy Dorsey dedicates "Seems Like Old Times" to the party at the "Farm".
25. Honor Society Dinner. Vas you dere Charlie?
26. Safety Week. Stoll back in town. Everybody crosses the street with his fingers crossed.
27. Warm weather regulations set up. Don't yell, eat, step on grass, loiter or breathe! Stay inside and enjoy life.
28. Paul Jones speaks for "Safety". Fido speaks for hamburger. Me, too.
29. Sock Hop held at "Y". All so asphyxiated they had to leave.
30. N. F. L. contest. Joe Lowenstein seen asking — "Have you seen Mrs. Schwab?"
31. "Sadie Hawkins Barn Dancers" find it hard to roll out of bed this morning. Mr. Bartels does not like Betty to go to bed so early — in the morning.

APRIL

1. April first brings April "Fools". April showers bring May flowers. Civil war brings headaches to U. S. history kids.
2. "Last of the Mohicans" film might have inspired seniors in keeping up their work until June 12, that is, if they had seen it.
3. Commencement and Class Night speakers elected. Jerry Mullins and Russ McMahan gain privilege to let off steam at Commencement.
4. Kathleen Wolfe makes a sensational speech in English class. She just loves it around here.
5. Hi-Y conference begins. Doctor Slutz greatly enjoyed by all.
6. Hi-Y conference continues. Mardi Gras dance. Snow knee deep; or was it confetti?
7. Walter Cates seen without the little woman. Miracles never cease. Benny Bartels shakes confetti from his hair in church.
8. Ann Clowers' "Chevie" gets its usual airing every day after school. Some people are so lucky.
9. Dick Smith starts practicing up his driving arm (golf driving, that is).
10. Spring is really here now. The absence list soars.
11. Last minute cramming for scholarship exams.
12. Scholarship exams. Moonlight boatride event of the season. No moon — but a boat. What more could one ask?
13. Band contest at Oxford. High hopes satisfied.
14. Lois Marsh discovers a foreign entanglement — Italian spaghetti.
15. Holy Week services are held before school starting today. Deadline for Annual. What a mad rush for the printers.
16. Jane Arent still waiting for her ship to come in with THE man on it!!
17. All school speech contest. Earl Biegart wins.
18. You should never put bananas in the re-frig-er-ator. No-no-no!
19. Good Friday, school dismissed. Louie Rauch forgets and comes anyway.
20. Don Warner stays up all night to see if there's really an Easter Bunny.

APRIL

21. In her gay bonnet with the blue ribbons on it Marilyn Massey goes to church on Easter.
22. Mr. App's sick? Did he eat too many Easter eggs? We wonder.
23. School after such beautiful holiday weekend. There oughta be a law.
24. Joe Lowenstein after looking for three years wants to know, "Have you seen Burns?"
25. "He was a Gay Senorita" turns out to be a big success, and the Gay Senorita turns out to be Fred Green.
26. Pan American Week closes with fiesta in gym.
27. Spanish studes recover from a gay time.
28. Sophomores look ahead — bright future — they'll be juniors next year!!
29. Not a thing happened today; that's all there is to it.
30. Last day of the month. Father's waiting for the bills.

MAY

1. May Day — flowers, soft breezes, spring, and stuff like that.
2. The day after May Day. Amazing!
3. Two days after May Day, and no let up in homework for seniors.
5. Nice Sunday afternoon for strolls in the woods and also "criks".
5. Hi-Y Spring Formal.
6. Another blue Monday.
7. Qualitative analysis getting the best of chemistry studes.
8. Last joint Hi-Y meeting of the year.
9. Kenneth Glover does his homework — odd now isn't it? Miracles can happen!
10. Junior Prom — What beautiful formals.
11. Juniors recovering from the effects of the Prom.
12. To church for all good "chillun".
13. Surprise! It's on Monday, not Friday.
14. Senior Senate plans for Class Night.
15. Collections for caps and gowns.
16. Seniors begin rehearsals for graduation.
17. DeMolay Sweetheart Dance. "Fellas" deck out in new summer suits.
18. Sophomores peep out for a breath of air.
19. "The Lake" opens. Bathing suits replace skirts and sweaters.
20. Sun burns and tans flash about the halls.
21. Phil Marcus seen selling artificial flowers. (Money for class night, you know.)
22. If there's a will there's a way. Phil now has followers.
23. U. S. History Club contemplates trip to LeSourdsville.
24. Another weekend in view.
25. Phil now has three dollars. Business is booming.
26. Lazy day!
27. Big hayride for guys and gals.
28. Seniors strive for better grades with graduation drawing near.
29. Boys' Hi-Y ends up its affairs of the year.
30. Memorial Day — free!!
31. Only one more Friday in dear old H.H.S.

JUNE

1. Almost the end! Can you wait?
2. Students study. Exams you know.
3. More practice for seniors.
4. Exams begin.
5. Brother are we going to march down those aisles.
6. Do you have a date for Class Night? See the Date Bureau. If you still have no date . . . see Miss Ganter. She'd be glad to go.
7. Seniors have no fingernails left. The time is approaching. Class Night! A terrific climax to an exiting school year.
8. Checker Newton starts celebrating already. Takes the day off.
9. Baccalaureate. Gee, were we sad!
10. Practice, practice, practice. I bet we walk five miles rehearsing for commencement.
11. Commencement. "Land of Hope and Glory" rings from the auditorium.
12. So-long —— see ya' at the reunion in "56".

FROM

"The Complete Jewelers"

McCOMB-SCOTT

11 SOUTH THIRD STREET

"Just for the Memory"

Time for seniors to bid all under classmen an ardent farewell. But first a few laughs to remember us by. (Well remember us anyway).

Ever hear about the witty professor, who said as his glass eye rolled to the floor, "Ive lost another pupil?"

— o —

Ken Koger: "What did one coffin say to the other coffin?"
Ben Pater: "I don't know, what?"
Ken Koger: "Is that you coughin'!"

— o —

Advice from your parting classmen — "If you can't convince your teachers, confuse 'em."

— o —

They walked down the lane together,
The sky was full of stars
They reached the gate in silence
He lifted down the bars
She lifted those dark eyes to him.
There was nought between them now
For he was only the hired man
And she — a Jersey cow.

— o —

Betty Wagner: "Where is the best place to find a helping hand?"
Ann Welliver: "At the end of your arm, of course."

Dick Smith: "I have a cold or something in my head."
Pat Overholts: "It must be a cold!"

— o —

A man can sometimes get a pearl out of an oyster, but it takes a pretty girl to get a diamond out of an old crab."

— o —

DAFFYNITION

Blessed are those who have nothing to say and can't be persuaded to say it.

— o —

Willie on the railroad track
The engine gave a squeal
The engineer just took a spade
And scraped him off the wheel.

— o —

It was a black rainy night and he was on his way home from the station. Suddenly he realized that he was being followed. He quickened his step again, and so did the man who was following. Faster and faster he went until he came to a cemetery "Now," he thought, "I'll fool him." He entered the cemetery, dodged around. several tombstones, crawled under a hedge, circled a mausoleum. Still the man followed. At last, in sheer desperation he turned, faced his pursuer and asked in a frightened tone "Well, what is it. What do you want of me. What are you following me for" "Well, sir," came a meek reply, "I'm going to Mr. Thomas' house and the station agent said to follow you because you live next door. But tell me, sir, do you always go home this way?"

"Just for the Memory"

After a beautiful painting job was done on the ceiling, the absent minded painter cautioned the housewife, "Please be careful and see that the children don't walk on it."

— o —

Pete Poulemanos in writing a theme said: "Robinson Crusoe was a great contortionist. After working hard all day he would sit down on his chest."

— o —

"We used to wonder what the future had in store for us," said Herb Feldman. "But now we wonder what the store will have in the future for us."

— o —

SHARP SAYINGS

Don't think you're sharp just because your head comes to a point.

Because you have a nose like a banana don't think your one of the bunch.

— o —

Mr. Milligan: "What happens when a body is immersed in water?"

Mary Zornow: "The telephone rings!"
